Subject: Enforcement of Minimum Attendance Requirements and Academic Probation Policy — Spring Semester 2026

This notice is being issued to all students of Northbridge University with immediate effect. The Dean of Academic Affairs, on behalf of the Academic Council, wishes to bring to the attention of the student community the compulsory attendance policy currently in force and to communicate the consequences of non-compliance as the Spring Semester 2026 approaches its final phase.

1. Minimum Attendance Requirement

In accordance with University Statutes, Chapter 7, Clause 14(b), every student is required to maintain a minimum attendance of 75% in each course across lectures, tutorials, and laboratory sessions combined. This requirement applies uniformly to all undergraduate and postgraduate students irrespective of their year of study or programme. Attendance is recorded by the respective course instructor at the commencement of every scheduled class and is updated on the University Academic Portal within 24 hours.

Students who have been absent due to participation in officially sanctioned University events — including inter-collegiate competitions, academic conferences, or cultural representations — must submit documentary evidence issued by the relevant convening authority to their Department Office within five working days of their return. Such absences will be treated as condoned leave and shall not be counted against the student's attendance record, subject to approval by the Head of Department.

2. Current Attendance Status and Student Responsibility

As of March 14, 2026, students whose cumulative attendance in any one or more courses has fallen below 85% have been individually notified through their registered University email addresses. Students are strongly advised to review their attendance records on the University Academic Portal at portal.northbridge.edu and take immediate corrective action where necessary.

It is the sole responsibility of each student to monitor their own attendance on a regular basis. Claims of unawareness regarding attendance shortfall shall not be entertained as grounds for relaxation or waiver. Students who believe there has been an error in their recorded attendance must approach the concerned course instructor within seven working days of the error.

occurring, as retrospective corrections beyond this window cannot be processed.

3. Consequences of Attendance Deficiency

Students whose attendance in any course falls below the stipulated 75% threshold at the time of the End-Semester Examination will be debarred from appearing in the examination for that particular course. Such students will be awarded a grade of 'AB' (Absent — Attendance Deficient) on their official transcript, which carries zero grade points and will adversely affect their Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA).

A student who accumulates attendance deficiency in three or more courses in a single semester will be placed on Academic Probation. Students on Academic Probation are required to meet with their Academic Advisor and submit a written Academic Improvement Plan to the Dean's Office within ten working days of the probation notice. Failure to do so may result in suspension from the programme for one academic semester.

4. Medical and Exceptional Grounds for Condonation

Students who have been absent owing to prolonged illness, hospitalisation, or a certified family emergency may apply for attendance condonation on exceptional grounds. Such applications must be accompanied by original supporting documents — including a medical certificate issued by a registered medical practitioner or a relevant legal or official document in the case of a family emergency — and must be submitted to the Dean of Academic Affairs Office (Room 211, Administrative Block) no later than March 28, 2026.

Condonation shall be considered solely at the discretion of the Academic Condonation Committee and is not guaranteed. Students are advised not to assume approval prior to receiving an official written communication from this office. Incomplete applications or those submitted after the stated deadline will not be reviewed under any circumstances.

5. Appeals and Grievance Redressal

Students who wish to contest a decision made by the Academic Condonation Committee may submit a formal written appeal to the office of the Registrar within seven working days of the decision being communicated to them. The appeal must clearly state the grounds for contestation and must be accompanied by any additional evidence not previously submitted. The decision of the Registrar in such matters shall be final and binding.

All students are urged to treat this matter with the utmost seriousness. The University remains committed to supporting students in their academic journey, and the faculty and academic counsellors are available to assist students who may be facing difficulties in maintaining regular attendance. Students seeking guidance may write to academiccounselling@northbridge.edu or visit the Student Support Centre (Ground Floor, Library Building) during office hours.
